

Press Release

The law firm of Rieders, Travis, Humphrey, Waters & Dohrmann is pleased to announce that Clifford Rieders has become a member of the National Trial Lawyers. The National Trial Lawyers is a professional organization composed of the “premier” trial lawyers from across the country “who exemplify superior qualifications as civil plaintiff or criminal defense trial lawyers.” Selection is based on a “thorough multi-phase objective and uniformly applied process which includes peer nominations combined with third-party research.” According to the organization’s website, membership is extended “only to the select few of the most qualified attorneys from the state or region who demonstrate superior qualifications of leadership, reputation, influence, stature and public profile measured by objective and uniformly applied standards....”

Cliff Rieders is an AV rated lawyer, nationally board certified and a member of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court Rules Committee as well as the Pennsylvania Supreme Court Standard Jury Instruction Committee.

Rieders is an honor’s graduate of New York University, Cum Laude, Phi Beta Kappa, Code of Arms Society, and received his Juris Doctoral degree from Georgetown University.

The attorney is a noted author of many books utilized by attorneys, and is a frequent writer on other topics as well. Cliff Rieders is a Past President of the Pennsylvania Trial Lawyers Association, now the Pennsylvania Association for Justice, as well as President of the Federal Bar Association, Central Pennsylvania Chapter.

Rieders is a life member of the American Law Institute, an organization which proposes laws to the fifty states and has received honors from the Pennsylvania Association of Justice for his work with the Amicus Curiae Committee as well as the prestigious Milton Rosenberg Award.
